6. Collateral Evaluation

Collateral Evaluation is a process in which the customer approaches the bank and requests the bank to evaluate his collateral. Bank assess the collateral and informs the customer about the value of the collateral that the Bank can offer, if the customer agrees to the value proposed by the bank and to the other Terms and Conditions, then the collateral gets pledged with the Bank.

Using this option, corporate customers can request for evaluation of a collateral by providing the required details like collateral type, its description, market value, its ownership information and the details of banks where the collateral is already pledged. Corporate user can also upload the required supporting documents using the OBDX platform.

Collateral evaluation process goes through various stages starting from providing the details of collateral that is to be evaluated, until the review and acceptance of collateral evaluation application.

Corporate user can track the status of the collateral evaluation applications using Application Tracker available within OBDX and can view, download and accept or reject the Collateral Evaluation offer generated by the mid office/back office.
