Known Issues

The following issues occur in this release:

VeriFone Sled

The following issue occurs in this release with the VeriFone Sled and the associated API:

The API for the battery level on the VeriFone Sled may deliver inconsistent values, reflecting that the battery level is too low when, in fact, the level is adequate. This results in an error message displayed on the mobile device. This error does not affect Oracle Retail Mobile Point-of-Service functionality. This is a vendor issue with the VeriFone Sled and the associated API.

Manual Deployment

On the Manual Deployment Option installer screen, Yes must be selected. If No is selected, Oracle Retail Mobile Point-of-Service is not configured correctly.
