Overview

Welcome to the IStream Document Manager 6.3 Message Reference Guide.

This chapter contains information about:

- Document Conventions on page 6
- Message Types on page 7
- Message Listings on page 8
- IStream Document Manager Documentation on page 10

Document Conventions

Tips, Notes, Important Notes and Warnings

Tip: A Tip provides a better way to use the software.

Note: A Note contains special information and reminders.

Important: An Important note contains significant information about the use and understanding of the software.

Warning: A Warning contains critical information that if ignored, may cause errors or result in the loss of information.

Other Document Conventions

- Microsoft Window names, buttons, tabs and other screen elements are in bold, for example: Click Next.

- paths, URLs and code samples are in the Courier font, for example: `C:\Windows`

- values that you need to enter or specify are indicated in the italicized Courier font, for example, server_name

- values that are optional are indicated with square brackets, for example [reserved]

Message Types

This guide lists the following types of IStream Document Manager messages in three separate tables:

- Error Messages on page 13 – Error messages appear in the IStream Document Manager application interface.

- Log Messages on page 39 – Log messages are written to an IStream Document Manager log file. You can also view these messages with the Log Viewer.

- SDK Messages on page 105 – SDK messages appear in the IStream Document Manager log file when using the IStream Document Manager API.

Message Listings

Each message table includes the message text, a message type, and a message code:

Message Text

The first column in each table (Error Message, Log Message or SDK Message) contains the actual text of the message that appears. All messages are sorted alphabetically by the message text. The name of this column varies in each table.

Message Module

The Module column lists the module or submodules to which the message applies.

Message Type

The Type column lists the kind of message and its severity. From least to most critical, these are:

- Info (Informational messages) – These appear during the normal operation of IStream Document Manager. They do not indicate any operational problems.

- Warnings – These indicate a problem may have occurred.

- Errors – These indicate a problem has occurred, but IStream Document Manager may be able to continue running normally.

- Critical – These indicate a serious problem has occurred that may cause IStream Document Manager to stop working.

Message Code

The Code column lists a unique identifier associated with the message. You can use this to more quickly identify the message when contacting customer support.

Searching Messages

You can search this PDF document to find a specific message. This is useful if you know the message code, and want to see what it means.

Method: Search messages

1. While this PDF file is open, press Ctrl-F.

2. The Find dialog box is displayed.

3. In the Find What field, type the code you want to find. Ensure all the check boxes in the dialog box are cleared.

4. Click Find or Find Again.

5. The code you are searching for is highlighted in the document.
