Accessing Third-Party Notice and License Information for Oracle Solaris 11

Certain third-party technology might be included in or distributed with Oracle Solaris. The notices provided within Oracle Solaris are based on information made available to Oracle by the third-party licensors.

Notice and license information for third-party technology included with Oracle Solaris 11 can be found in either of the following locations:

- On an installed system
- In the Oracle Solaris 11 package repository

Accessing Third-Party Notice and License Information

This section describes how to access third-party license information from an installed system or from the package repository.

▼ How to Access Third-Party Notice and License Information From an Installed System Using the Package Manager GUI

- 1 Log in to an Oracle Solaris 11 system.
- 2 Start the Package Manager by choosing System →Administration→Package Manager from the menu bar.
- 3 Select the package name from the list of available packages.
- 4 Click the Notices tab to view the third-party notice and license information for that package.

▼ How to Access Third-Party Notice and License Information at the Command Line

- In a terminal window, type the following command from your home directory:

```
$ pkg info -r --license pkg-name | less
```

▼ How to Access Third-Party Notice and License Information From the Package Repository

- 1 In a web browser, access the package repository at <http://pkg.oracle.com/solaris/release/en/catalog.shtml>.

The Package Repository lists the packages for the current release.

- 2 (Optional) To view packages for a previous release, select the release from the Release and Branch drop-down menu.
- 3 Click a package name in the Name column to view the third-party notice and license information for that package.
