1 Introduction

During the composition of an inventory count document, if data are downloaded from a PS containing products which are not part of the inventory, the program warns the user with a generic message and only imports valid products.

As of this version the generic message will be replaced with a list of the rejected products and it will be possible to print it.

2 Display of products not part of the inventory

aaa

2.1 Configuration

The message is automatically replaced with the list of products. However, it will be possible to configure and customize the possibility of printing this summary.

The “Print products not in inventory” button can be configured in operator class Authorizations and associated with a printing group.

2.2 Operation

During the composition of an inventory count document, if data are downloaded from a PS containing products which are not part of the inventory, the program warns the user with a list of rejected products and it will be possible to print them (if configured).

By pressing on the “Close” button the window will close and the program will go to the count document grid.
