2. Pay Day Loans Application

A payday loan is a short term unsecured loan, generally for a small amount that is due on the borrower's next payday. Most often payday loans are paid off in one lump-sum. These loans are also called cash advance loans, salary loans, or short term loans.

Borrowers generally avail of payday loans for immediate and temporary financial needs such as medical bill payment, car repair, or other onetime expenses. Payday loans are helpful for people who have no savings balance or credit cards.

Pay Day Loans Application Workflow

Following are the steps involved as part of application submission:

- State Selection: Select the state in which you reside, after which you can proceed with the loan application.
- Orientation: Select your login preference, i.e. if you are a first time applicant you can continue as a guest or login through any of the social media profiles available. If you are an existing customer you can login with your credentials in order to have the application pre-populated with your information.

The following sections (excluding Review & Submit and Confirm) will be displayed in the order defined by the bank administrator in the workflow configuration screen:

- Loan Requirements: In this section, you are required to specify the amount you wish to borrow as well as identify your current military status, i.e. whether you are an active duty armed forces member or dependent; or not. You can also define a promotional code, if any, in this section.
- Primary Information: In this section, you can specify basic personal information comprising of name and date of birth. Additionally, if you are a first time applicant, you are also required to specify how you heard about the financial institute.
- Contact Information: Details of your residence as well as phone numbers and email address are to be identified in this section. This section comprises of the following sub sections – Email Address, Phone Numbers, and Residential Address. Depending on your accommodation type, you may be required to identify the amount you spend on rent or mortgage repayment on a monthly basis. You can also identify your mailing address if it is different from that of your residential address, in this section.

- Proof of Identity: In this section, you are required to identify your Social Security Number (SSN) as well as proof of identity.
- Employment Information: If you are currently employed, you are required to provide the name of the company at which you are employed along with your work phone number in this section.
- Income: This section of the application form captures the applicant's income details. You are required to identify your primary source of income and income earned on your last paycheck in addition to details such as frequency of payment, the dates on which you will receive your next two paychecks as well as identify when you are paid if your regular payday falls on a holiday.
- Account Information: The financial institution is required to capture your savings or checking account number, into which the loan amount will be credited once the loan is sanctioned. The financial institution will also debit the repayment amount due on the loan due date from the same account. Hence, you will have to provide details about your bank such as bank name and bank branch routing number as well as the saving or checking account number in the Account Information section of the application form.
- Review and Submit: This section comprises of two sub sections. The first displays the summary of the loan application. You can verify details submitted as part of the application and modify any if required. The second sub section displays the disclosures and notices applicable on the loan application. You can view details of these disclosures and notices and give consent to them before submitting the application to the bank.
- Confirm Page: Once you submit the application, a confirmation page will be displayed containing the current status of the application as well as the application reference number. This page will also contain details of any additional steps that might be required to be taken by either you or the bank. The options to either navigate to the app tracker or the product showcase are provided on this page.

2.15 Existing Customer Application

This section describes how an existing customer can apply for a payday loan.

If you are an existing customer of the bank, you can select the Login option on the Orientation screen (section 2.2). The screen on which you are prompted to enter your login credentials is displayed. Once you have entered and submitted your login credentials, the application form is displayed with all your personal information pre-populated in the respective sections. You are, hence, required to enter information in only the loan requirements and account information sections which are displayed first in the application form.

The pre-populated sections in which you are required to enter or update certain information are highlighted so that you are made aware about any further information that needs to be furnished. Before submitting the application, you will be required to review the information being submitted as part of the application form as well as provide consent to the various disclosures and notices that impact the loan. Once you submit the application, a confirmation page will be displayed which will display the current status of the application form as well as a reference number by which you can track your application in the app tracker.

3. Application Tracker

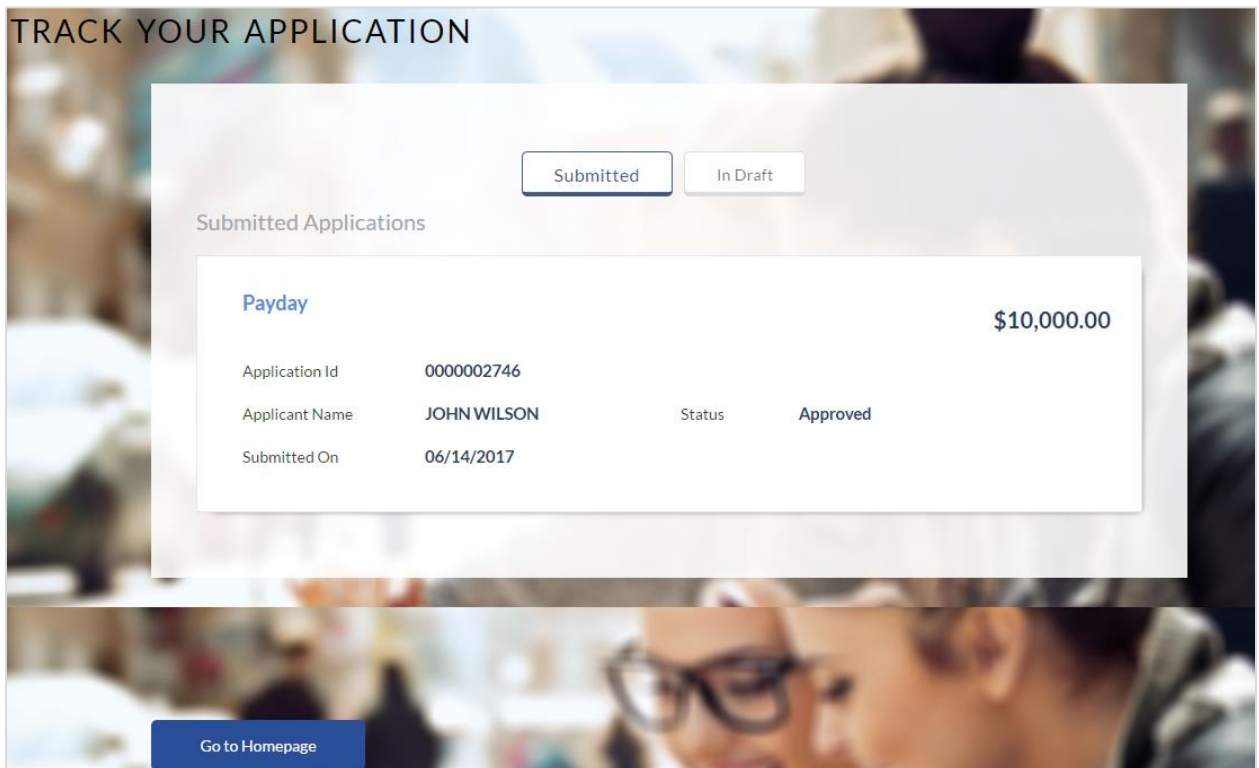

The Application Tracker enables you to view the progress of submitted applications and also to retrieve and complete applications that have been saved. Through the application tracker you can perform the following actions:

- View submitted application: The app tracker enables you to view details of submitted application which includes tracking the status of the application as well as completing any pending tasks.
- View application in draft: If you click save for later while filling in an application, the application is saved in the app tracker as an 'In Draft application'. You can select any of the applications available under this tab in order to complete and submit that application.

To track an application:

1. Click Track Application on the dashboard. The Login screen is displayed.
2. Enter your registered email ID and password, click Login.
3. The landing screen of the Application Tracker is displayed, containing tabs of both Submitted Applications as well as In Draft Applications, if you have applications in both categories. By default the submitted application tab is selected.

4. FAQs

1. If I am an existing customer, do I still have to specify my state of residence on selecting a product?

No, if an existing customer has logged in and is then selecting a product, the system will automatically identify the customer's state of residence.

2. I am 18 years old and currently residing in Alabama where the age of majority is 19 years. Can I apply for a payday loan online?

No, you need to be a legal major in the state in which you reside in order to be eligible to apply for a payday loan online.

3. When I specify my state or residence, the system generates an error message and I am not allowed to proceed with the application. Why?

Payday loans are banned in certain states in the United States. Hence, if you are residing in one of the states that forbids the practice of payday lending, you will not be able to apply for a payday loan.

4. Why am I not required to enter information such as gender, marital status etc as part of primary information?

Financial institutions in the US are governed by strict laws one of them being the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA) which dictates that it is unlawful for any creditor to discriminate against any applicant on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status or age (as long as the applicant is a legal major). Hence, information such as the applicant's gender, number of dependents, marital status, etc are not captured in the loan application.

5. Why am I being asked to specify if I am an active duty armed forces member or a dependent?

The US government imposes a cap on the interest rate that can be charged on an active duty armed forces member or dependent. Hence this information is pertinent to servicing a loan and is required to be identified by all applicants at the time of loan application.

6. Why do I have to provide my Social Security Number (SSN) in the application? How does the bank ensure that my information is safe?

Your Social Security Number is required as it is part of the information we use to verify your identity and is also used by our third party credit reporting agencies to identify your credit worthiness. Your Social Security Number is masked as soon as you enter it so as to eliminate the risk of shoulder surfing security threat.

7. Why do you require the expiry date of my identity proof?

We ask for the expiry date of your identity proof to ensure that you are providing us with a valid proof of identity, one that is currently not expired.

8. Can I provide my post office box number as residential address?

No, we require the address at which you currently reside and if required the address at which you resided previously.

9. I have my entire zip code i.e. in zip+4 format. Can I provide my entire zip code?

Yes, the application accepts regular zip format as well as zip+4 format.

10. Do I need to include the income I get as alimony in the income section of the application?

No, you do not have to include income from alimony, child support or any separate maintenance income if you do not wish for it to be considered as a basis for loan repayment.

11. Why am I being asked to enter the dates on which I will receive my next two paychecks?

You need to furnish this information so as to enable to institute to arrive at a date on which the loan is to be repaid.

12. Why am I being asked to specify my savings or checking account number?

We require details of a savings or checking account number, preferably the one in which your regular income is credited, so as to credit this account with the loan amount when the loan is sanctioned and also to debit this account for the amount due on the loan on the loan repayment due date.

13. Why do I have to give my consent to all the disclosures displayed under the Review & Submit section?

As per US law, all customers of the bank are to be made aware of all the disclosures and notices impacting them. Hence, we require your consent to all these disclosures and also provide links for you to view the details of each disclosure.

14. I am an existing customer of the institute but do not have channel access, how can I proceed?

You can register yourself as a channel user through the 'Register' option available on the portal page and provide the required details.

15. Can I proceed with the application if I am not an existing channel user?

Yes, you can continue filling in the application details as a guest user and need not necessarily login.
