Overview & Objectives

Term Deposits are the investments made in financial instruments for a particular period of time, called the maturity period. After the end of the maturity period, a fixed sum on pre-described rates of interest is given to the customers. These term deposits can have fixed or floating interest rates. The fixed term deposit is the one in which the bank accepts deposits from the public that can be withdrawn after an agreed fixed time period without requiring to have a separate termination of the account. A floating term deposit is the one in which the banks do not offer any guarantees on the rates of returns, as is the case with the fixed deposit. When the term is over it can be withdrawn or it can be held for another term.

- Term Deposit module of FLEXCUBE supports processing of products like,
  - Normal term Deposits
  - Recurring Deposits
