3. Voice Assistant - Alexa

Conversational user interface is a new paradigm to connect to banking products and services. Consumers have become accustomed to using voice commands for simple tasks.

Banking services can be offered through such virtual assistants that can allow customers to check their account balance or perform other inquiries through voice command.

Voice Assistant Alexa allows the user to inquire account balances and recent transactions in their account. Before giving voice commands to Alexa, the user will need to register with voice assistant (Alexa) by adding the skill and will also need to provide consent to the voice assistant to seek information on behalf of the user through an access token.

Following features are supported through Alexa:

- Balance Inquiry for Savings Account
- Balance Inquiry for Checking Account
- Balance Inquiry for Term Deposit Account
- Outstanding Balance Inquiry for a Loan Account
- Last Five Transactions in Savings Account
- Last Five Transactions in Checking Account
- Next Installment Amount for a Loan Account

Pre-Requisites

- Register the bank application i.e. skill with voice assistant (Alexa)
- Register Alexa as an External Touch Point through Touch Point Maintenance along with definition of scopes
- Register Alexa as a Client with Internal OAuth and define scopes
- Definition of Application Role (of type external) for each scope and map applicable transactions through role transaction mapping

Following are the sample voice commands which you can provide to voice assistant (Alexa).

FAQs

1. How do I register for Alexa to perform inquiries on my account?

You will need to add the bank on Alexa app, login to the bank account and on re-direction to the consent page provide consent to the Alexa app. Once the consent is provided, there will be an access token available to Alexa to perform the required inquiries for the scopes to which the consent is provided to.

2. Do I need to provide the entire account number to Alexa for inquiries?

No, it is not mandatory to specify the entire account number for an inquiry. The user can specify the last 4 digits of the account number as well.
