Bundled Application

This topic describes the process of creating product bundles and applying for multiple bundled products through a single application.

Product bundling is becoming increasingly popular in retail banking. OBDX provides applicants with the opportunity to create a bundle of multiple products and enables them to apply for all these products through a single application. This enables applicants to save time and effort in filling out and submitting multiple application forms. Applicants can also easily track the bundled application and view the status of each individual product application within the bundled application from the application tracker.

In a manner that is similar to individual product applications, both existing online banking customers of the bank as well as prospects can apply for bundled products by simply selecting the option provided on the bank portal. The applicant must then proceed to select a product from within each product category to be added to the bundle.

On having made a selection, the applicant can proceed to the application form which will be an amalgamation of all the application forms required for each different product type. The applicant will be required to enter information that is common for each product application, only once. E.g. section Personal Information is common across all product applications as are Employment and Financial Profile for certain applications. These sections will not be repeated in a bundled application. The applicant will be required to specify information pertaining to each account or loan specifically i.e. if applying for a bundle that comprises of products savings and checking accounts, the applicant will be required to specify Account Preferences specifically for each account type.

The application form is OCR (Optical Character Recognition) enabled so as to save the applicant's time and effort in filling out the application form. The various sections of the form get prefilled with information fetched through OCR based on the document uploaded in the inline Upload Documents feature provided against each section for which OCR is supported.

Online KYC of the prospect can also be conducted by means of liveness check or through integration with third party identity verification service providers. For more information, please refer User Manual Oracle Banking Digital Experience Originations - KYC Modes.

Once the applicant's identity is verified successfully through online KYC, he/she will be able to proceed with the application form. The personal information section will also be prefilled with information as fetched on the basis of the identification provided.

Existing digital banking customers can simply provide their online banking credentials to have the personal information section of the form prefilled with information as maintained with the bank.

The application form also has the feature of QR code scan enablement which can be used to continue applications on mobile devices.

The application form has been designed in a manner that ensures that the information being captured adheres to all the regulations imposed by the US government. Additionally, all required disclosures and notices are also displayed as part of the application form.

The application tracker has been built so as to enable tracking of the application once it has been submitted. The application tracker also enables the applicant to retrieve and complete an application that has been saved. Additionally, the applicant can view documents that have been uploaded as part of the application form and can also view details as defined in the application form in PDF format.

Note

- a. Only one product per product category can be added in a bundle.
The maximum number of products that can be added in a bundle is configurable. In this release, only upto 3 products can be added in a bundled application.
- b. In this release, OBDX is integrated solely with Oracle FLEXCUBE Onboarding (OBO), for the submission and processing (including tracking) of US region application forms. Third party integration is not supported.
- c. OBDX is integrated with Oracle KYC to fetch the applicant's risk level (high risk or low risk) along with the reference number for the same as generated in the Oracle KYC system, at the time of application submission. OBDX will further send this information to the mid office system to be utilized as required.

Once you have selected the option to apply for a bundled application, you will be required to go through the following steps before you can start filling out the application form:

- Zip Code Specification: Once you select the option to apply for a bundled application from the Product Offerings section, you will be displayed a modal window in which you will be required to specify the zip code of your home address. As is the case with individual product applications, only those products that are enabled for application through online banking and available for your location (as per zip code specified) will be listed on this screen. You can select multiple products across category and proceed to apply for the bundled application.
- Kick Off: This page serves as an introduction to the application form. You can also view the documents required to be uploaded as part of the application. If you are a new/unregistered user, you can continue as a guest, or if you are an existing online banking customer you can login with your online banking credentials to have your information pre-populated in the application.
The steps that you will have to go through to submit your application will depend on whether you are applying for the bundled application as a guest user or as an existing online banking customer of the bank. 1.9 Existing User

This topic describes the product application process for existing customers.

An application form being initiated by an existing online banking customer of the bank (registered user) will differ from that of one being initiated by a new/unregistered user.

You will be able to apply as an existing customer either by selecting the provided option on the kickoff page and proceeding to specify your login credentials (applicable if you have applied via the bank portal page) or by selecting the product of choice from the product showcase available to you post login via the hamburger menu. In either case, the application form will vary from that of a prospect applicant's.

The system will identify your KYC status and depending on the status, you will either be allowed to proceed with the application or not i.e. if your Re-KYC is active you will be allowed to enter and submit your application form but if your Re-KYC is pending, you will not be allowed to apply for the products and will be displayed a message informing you of the same.

Note

You will not be able to apply for a certificate of deposit as part of the bundled application in case you are applying as an existing customer of the bank. The feature to open a certificate of deposit, available through Retail Servicing, can be used to apply for a certificate of deposit separately.
