1.6 Diversity and Inclusion

Oracle is fully committed to diversity and inclusion. Oracle respects and values having a diverse workforce that increases thought leadership and innovation. As part of our initiative to build a more inclusive culture that positively impacts our employees, customers, and partners, we are working to remove insensitive terms from our products and documentation. We are also mindful of the necessity to maintain compatibility with our customers' existing technologies and the need to ensure continuity of service as Oracle's offerings and industry standards evolve. Because of these technical constraints, our effort to remove insensitive terms is ongoing and will take time and external cooperation.

1.7 Documentation Accessibility

For information about Oracle's commitment to accessibility, visit the Oracle Accessibility Program website at <http://www.oracle.com/pls/topic/lookup?ctx=acc&id=docacc>.

Access to Oracle Support

Oracle customer access to and use of Oracle support services will be pursuant to the terms and conditions specified in their Oracle order for the applicable services.

About Getting Started

This topic describes about the procedure to get started with Oracle Banking Applications.

The Procedure User Guide helps user get started with Oracle Banking applications. This user guide explains the basic design of Oracle and the common operations that user can follow while using it. This user guide should be used as a supplement and read alongside Common Core, Security Management System, and other application user guides.

3

Access Application

This topic provides the information about the access details for an Oracle Banking application.

The user can access any application using the link provided by the administrator.

This topic contains the following sub-topics:

- Sign In
This topic provides the systematic instructions to sign in to the application.
- Sign Out
This topic provides the systematic instructions to log out from the application.

3.1 Sign In

This topic provides the systematic instructions to sign in to the application.

Make sure that the valid User Name and Password is created for the user.

1. Specify the URL in the browser address and press Enter.

The Sign In screen displays.

2. Specify the required fields on Sign In screen.
For more information on fields, refer to the field description table.

Table 3-1 Sign In – Field Description

Field	Description
User Name	Specify the user name. You can log into Oracle ELCM using the user ID provided by your system administrator. The field is not case-sensitive.

Table 3-1 (Cont.) Sign In – Field Description

Field	Description
Password	S Enter the password for the user ID specified in the above field. This field is case sensitive. Once you have specified the above details, click 'Sign In'. If you have entered the correct user ID and password, the system will log you in and display the 'Home' tab of the 'Application Browser' screen. If the user ID or password is incorrect, the system will display an appropriate error message. While creating the user profile, if the option 'Force Password Change' is checked, then the system forces you to change your password on first login. However, if the option is not checked, you may continue to use the same password. The system disables the user profile under the following circumstances: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The number of successive invalid login attempts reaches the maximum defined for your user ID.</li> <li>• The cumulative number of invalid login attempts reaches the maximum defined for your user ID. In case the user ID is disabled on any of the above grounds, the system displays a message that your user profile has been disabled.</li> <li>• The users designated as Control Clerks can enable your user profile for you to use it again. If you want to exit the system, click exit icon.</li> </ul>

3. Click Sign In to login to the application.

The Home screen displays.

3.2 Sign Out

6

Changing User Password

Users have the ability to modify their passwords at any time as needed. Control Clerks can also activate a mandatory password change and configure a notification to be shown for users whose password change is imminent. In Oracle ELCM, user passwords can be altered through two methods:

1. Periodic Password Change: A specific timeframe can be established in Oracle ELCM for the modification of the user password. When the time for the password change arrives, upon the user's next login attempt, the 'Password Change for User' interface will be presented by the system.
2. Manual Password Change: Users have the option to change their passwords at any time. By hovering over the logged-in username, the 'User Action' menu will appear. The 'Change Password' link should be selected. The 'Change Password' screen will then be presented by the system. In the bank level parameters table, which is available to users assigned as Control Clerks, it is possible to specify that a reminder or notification should be shown a predetermined number of days prior to the scheduled password change. For instance, the bank level parameters can be configured to display a password change reminder three days before the change is required. Consequently, three days before the password change deadline, a reminder will be visible upon logging into the system. This message will be shown at every login until the password is successfully changed by the user.
