Back Data Propagation

This topic provides instructions to define the process of entering UT and LEP transactions missed out and correcting erroneous data already entered.

Back Data Propagation refers to the process of including data that has been left out and correcting data that has been erroneously entered and can be performed for both UT and LEP transactions.

This is done by replaying all the transactions for the Unit Holder that have taken place since the date of the propagation transaction and which have an impact on the unit holder balance and client contribution. Based on the correct (or complete) information that is input through the propagation record, the system will re-compute dividends, broker commissions, capital gains tax and its recovery, annuity and periodic fees.

1.1 Back Data Processing

This topic provides information on Back Data Processing.

Propagation of back data is a process wherein the system simulates all the relevant transactions for a Unit Holder from the date of propagation till current date, This is done by simulating the incomplete or incorrect transactions in a separate schema known as the report schema.

For the simulation, the transaction details need to be entered in the normal or business schema and then selected for data propagation. The system will then access the latest version of the transaction that is being propagated from the main tables in the business schema and update information accordingly. The updated information will be stored in the tables of the report schema and can be viewed from the business schema.

Propagation can be done for multiple transactions at the same time, for instance if you wish, you can modify a transaction and at the same time select another transaction for deletion. Each time propagation happens, the system will generate a unique reference to identify the process and store it along with the data in the business schema. This reference will be used to retrieve the propagation data for the corresponding transaction from the report data stores after propagation.

The following transactions can be propagated:

- UT Transactions
  - IPO

- Subscription
- Redemption
- Normal Switch and Pseudo switch
- Transfer
- SI transactions
- LEP Transactions:
  - Policy Initial Investment
  - Top up
  - Premium
  - Annuity
  - Policy switches
  - Recurring switches
  - Surrender

Note:

- If the transaction is unavailable in the main tables of the business schema, the system will check for its existence in the archives (of the business schema) and display an error message if the transaction cannot be traced in either of these.
- The propagation will be only a simulation in the report schema. You will not be allowed to correct data or input data missed out in the business schema.
- You cannot perform multiple operations on the same transaction.
- If, after a transaction has been entered in the business schema, there is an NAV correction, the system will consider the corrected NAV for propagation.

The following details will be stored in the report data stores for the propagated transactions:

- Total confirmed units before propagation
- Total confirmed units after propagation
- Total Provisional units before propagation
- Total Provisional units after propagation
- Net profit
- Net Loss

The system will perform the first level of authorization and redirect the record to the respective summary screen, from where you can perform the second level of authorization.

1.15 Run Debugs for Propagation

This topic provides instructions to run debugs for propagation.

When you run the data propagation process for LEP and UT, you can keep track of the processing using the debug facility.

You need to maintain a parameter PROPAGATIONLOG to enable this facility in the Parameter Setup Detail screen which you can process by typing UTDPARAM in the text box, and click Next.

- Maintain the value of this parameter as 1 to have a debug written.
- Maintain the value of this parameter as 0 to disable the debug.

1.16 Jobs Monitor Summary

This topic explains the steps to view the jobs that are being run and terminate the ones that you do not require in the Jobs Monitor Summary screen.

You will need to run EOD continuously to update the data from the date of transaction input till the current date as part of propagation. This is done through jobs.

1. On Home screen, type CSSJMNTR in the text box, and click Next.

The Jobs Monitor Summary screen is displayed.

1.17 Impact of Propagation

This topic provides information on impact on the following processes due to data propagation.

Load Computation

There can be a difference in the load computed after propagation and the original load computation if:

- the load is unit based and there has been an increase (or decrease) in the number of units due to propagation
- the outflow is linked to an inflow and the exit load is based on a period

Dividend Reinvestments

These will differ if transactions have been wrongly entered initially. During propagation, the system will pick up the balance based on the correct information entered and generate the dividend re-investment transactions. This calculation will however be based on the original IDS for the unit holder, that is, the IDS maintained at the time of initial processing.

Ageing (FIFO) Units

If there has been a change in the allocation status of a transaction, the system will consider only the original allocation status of a transaction during data propagation. For instance, if the original allocation status of a transaction is Provisional and subsequently the status changes to Confirmed, while reiterating the transactions, the system will consider the status as Provisional and carry out the calculations accordingly.

Linked Transactions Processing

For linked transactions, where an inflow transaction that is linked to an outflow transaction is being modified, the system will check if the outflow transaction is affected due to data propagation. If it is, the outflow transaction will not be generated.
