Improved Process for Oracle Retail Documentation Corrections

To more quickly address critical corrections to Oracle Retail documentation content, Oracle Retail documentation may be republished whenever a critical correction is needed. For critical corrections, the republication of an Oracle Retail document may at times not be attached to a numbered software release; instead, the Oracle Retail document will simply be replaced on the Oracle Help Center (docs.oracle.com), or, in the case of Data Models, to the applicable My Oracle Support Documentation container where they reside.

This process will prevent delays in making critical corrections available to customers. For the customer, it means that before you begin installation, you must verify that you have the most recent version of the Oracle Retail documentation set. Oracle Retail documentation is available on the Oracle Help Center (docs.oracle.com) at the following URL:

https://docs.oracle.com/en/industries/retail/index.html

An updated version of the applicable Oracle Retail document is indicated by Oracle part number, as well as print date (month and year). An updated version uses the same part number, with a higher-numbered suffix. For example, part number E123456-02 is an updated version of a document with part number E123456-01.

If a more recent version of a document is available, that version supersedes all previous versions.

Oracle Retail Documentation on the Oracle Help Center (docs.oracle.com)

Oracle Retail product documentation is available on the following web site:

https://docs.oracle.com/en/industries/retail/index.html

(Data Model documents can be obtained through My Oracle Support.)

Group View

Also, the group by and then by lists are mutually exclusive - selecting an option in one will remove it from the other. The buttons on the tab work in the same manner as those on the filter tab.

This view is similar to the first, save that the notifications are organized by hierarchy value. Initially, the three most recent notifications for each hierarchy value will be displayed. Click See More to load up to twenty five notifications. Clicking a notification in this view behaves the same as in the filter view.

Working with Notifications

The Notifications page provides more details about the notifications. It also displays read notifications and the ability to reassign notifications.

Working with Payment Card Tokens

Payment Card Tokens are unique identifiers generated by a payment service provider and can be re-used to make purchases and returns more secure when using a credit or debit card. Since the card number will only be held at the payment service provider, a hacker is unable to access the card number. The payment card tokens are stored in Customer Engagement and can be shared with systems that interact directly with payment service providers.

> Note
> This menu option will only display if the customer has payment card tokens and if they have a Payment Card Token additional security permission. See Administrator Guide for more information.

> Note
> There are three web services (Post, Get and Delete) that are used to manage the payment card tokens. See Batch Processing and Web Services Guide for more information.

> Note
> A 'SAVE_PAYMENT_CARD_TOKENS' (customer) attribute will need to be assigned to the customer to support the Payment Card Token feature for Omni Channel. When a payment card is used to make a payment for purchases, the customer needs to give permission to save the payment card token information for future payments. The value will need to be set to Yes, for payment card tokens to be saved from the external systems.

6. To assign awards for the Awards tab, do the following:

   Award promotions are based on award card definitions. Awards (EAwards or Entitlement Offer awards) are issued when the Promotion is generated. If the Promotion is defined as Issue to registered cards only, the awards will be created for cards within the selected program that are associated to a customer when the promotion is generated. This type of promotion is considered exclusively targeted to the customers with those cards. The targeting step will be available to define filters and/or control groups if desired.

   A segment can be added to filter the number of awards created. For example, an Award Program has 1,000 customers associated to cards, but this Promotion is only for those customers that live in Ohio. A segment can be defined for Ohio customers within that card program and added to the Promotion as Included Targets. In this case, only the customers that live in Ohio are included. An alternative is to add an Excluded Target segment, which could exclude all customers that live in New York. The promotion target can also be defined as Dynamic Targeting. If Dynamic Targeting is selected, any new customers that are associated to cards are dynamically added to the promotion target, and awards are issued when the Dynamic and Recurring Promotion job is run.

   If the promotion is defined to Issue Coupons Dynamically, the awards are created for activated cards within the selected program when the promotion is generated. The card does not need to be associated to a customer. This type of promotion is considered non targeted, since a customer association is not required. The promotion targeting step is skipped. This type of promotion is automatically considered a Dynamic and Recurring Promotion. For a Dynamic and Recurring Promotion, any new cards within the selected program that are activated will have an award issued when the Dynamic and Recurring Promotion job runs.

      - Units - The total item quantity divided by the number of unique transactions for the selected promotion.
    - Offer Summary (by audience/by offer, if there is only one audience group or no audience group defined, only the header displays)
      - Direct Revenue - Direct revenue received from the target audience: the total extended selling price of all line items purchased by the target audience that were associated with the promotion and offer. This is calculated by taking the transaction total minus the indirect revenue.
      - Coupon Codes by Audience (for Coupon Promotion only)
        - Respondents - The number of customers who redeemed a coupon by audience.
        - Transaction - The number of transactions in which the coupon was redeemed by audience.

    - Estimated Distribution - The estimated distribution identified when the coupon was defined in the promotion. If the coupon is serialized, then the coupon count is used instead.
    - Response % - The percentage of coupons distributed that have been redeemed.
- Financial Summary
    - Direct Revenue - Direct revenue received from the target audience: the total extended selling price of all line items sold for the target audience that were associated with the promotion. This is calculated by taking the transaction total minus the indirect revenue.
    - Indirect Revenue - Indirect revenue received from the target audience: the total extended selling price of all line items that were not associated with the promotion.
    - Total Revenue - The total for the transaction. This includes both direct revenue and indirect revenue.
    - Cost of Goods Sold - Total cost of goods sold to the target audience for all line items, whether included in direct or indirect revenue.
    - Markdowns - The value of markdowns applied to indirect line items.
    - Awards - The total value of awards issued through the promotion. Included only for an award promotion.
    - Points Issued (Points Promotion only)
    - Gross Profit - The transaction total minus the total cost of goods sold.
    - Margin % - Profit percentage of sales made to the target audience. The gross profit divided by the total revenue (transaction total) and multiplied by 100.
    - Promotion Cost - Cost of the promotion for the target audience. Calculated for each audience group as follows:
        - Determine the percentage of the total revenue for the promotion that is made up of the total revenue for the target. For example, if the total revenue for the promotion is $100,000, and the total revenue for the target is $25,000, then this percentage is 25.00%.
        - Use this percentage to allocate the target's share of the promotion's actual cost (actual amount) from the event-level budget. For example, if the actual amount is $40,000, then 25% of this actual amount is $10,000.
        - Determine the target's actual cost per channel. For example, $4,000.00.
        - Calculate the CPM for the target-level actual cost per channel to determine the actual cost per target customer. For example, the CPM based on the target-level actual cost is $4000.00, so the target-level actual CPM is $4.00 If there are 500 customers in the target, the result is $2,000.00. Promotion Scorecard Promotions 7-21

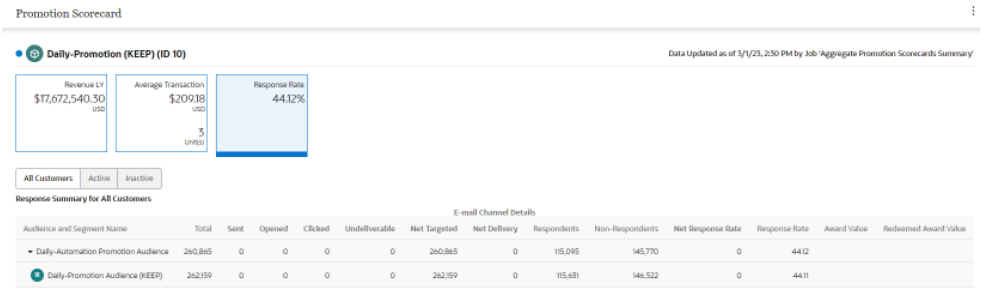

Copyright © 2025, Oracle and/or its affiliates.

        * Add the target's share of the promotion's actual cost (step 2) + the target-level actual cost per channel for each channel (step 3) + the total target-level actual cost based on number of target customers and CPM (step 4) to determine the promotion cost per target. In the examples above, this would be $10,000 + $4,000 + $2,000, or $16,000.
    * Net Profit - The gross profit minus the promotion cost.
* Additional Metrics
    * Promotion Cost Per Customer in Audience -Cost of the promotion per customer targeted by the promotion. Calculated based on the budget information defined for the target:
        * Determine the fixed actual cost for the target audience and channel.
        * Determine the CPM actual cost for the target and channel, divided by 1000 and then multiplied by the number of customers in the audience.
        * Determine the target audience revenue % by dividing the total target revenue by the total revenue.
        * Determine the promotion level cost by multiplying the promotion level actual cost by the target audience revenue %, calculated in the previous step.
        * Add the fixed actual cost (step 1) + the CPM actual cost (step 2) + the promotion level cost (step 4).
        * Determine the promotion cost per targeted customer by dividing the result of step 5 by the number of targeted customers.
    * Promotion Cost Per Responded Customer - The cost of the promotion per customer who responded to the promotion. The calculation is very similar to the promotion cost per targeted audience customer, except that the response total is used instead of the targeted audience total:
        * Determine the fixed actual cost for the target audience group and channel.
        * Determine the CPM actual cost for the target audience group and channel, divided by 1000 and then multiplied by the number of responses.
        * Determine the target audience group revenue % by dividing the total target audience group revenue by the total revenue.
        * Determine the promotion level cost by multiplying the promotion level actual cost by the target audience group revenue %, calculated in the previous step.
        * Add the fixed actual cost (step 1) + the CPM actual cost (step 2) + the promotion level cost (step 4).
        * Determine the promotion cost per responded customer by dividing the result of step 5 by the number of responding customers.
        * If the audience name is null or unidentified, the response will include a count of the unique transactions.
    * Revenue Per Customer in Audience - The revenue received per customer who was targeted by the promotion: The total direct revenue divided by the total number of customers in the target audience. If the promotion is a point promotion, this value will always be 0.

Copyright © 2025, Oracle and/or its affiliates.

* Revenue Per Responded Customer - The total direct revenue divided by the total number of customers in the target audience that have responded to the promotion. If the audience name is null or unidentified, the response will include a count of the unique transactions. If the promotion is a point promotion, indirect revenue is used in the calculation.

Segments

Customer Segments organize Customers into groups related by certain, specified criteria. These Segments can be used to define the Segment/Target Eligibility rules used by various Customer Engagement elements.

There are three types of Customer Segments:

- Stratified - Segments in which the Customers belonging to the segment are divided into stratified subgroups (or levels) determined by certain criteria, such as year-to-date total purchases, Customer age, annual income, or some other criteria. These Segments are described in Stratified Segments.
- Unstratified - Segments in which Customers belonging to the segment are not subdivided into different groups; that is, the Customers within the Segment are not differentiated into subgroups by the Segment. These Segments are described in Unstratified Segments.
- Personal Lists - Segments created by selecting Customers one-by-one. Associates can use Personal Lists to create Favorite Customer lists. These Segments are described in Personal Lists.

Registries

Overview

The Customer Item Registry allows you to set up two different types of registries:

- Gift Registry: Select the items that the recipient would like to receive - usually for a special event such as a wedding or baby shower.
- Wish List: Select items that the recipient would like to receive, without identifying a special event as with a Gift Registry

About this Chapter

This chapter contains the following information:

- Looking Up an Item Registry – Describes how to navigate to the Registries page and look up registries.
- Creating a Registry – Explains each of the five steps for creating a registry in the Registry Wizard:
  - Step 1: Information – Add the basic registry details, such as owner and type.
  - Step 2: Items – Add the items to the list for the Gift Registry or Wish List.
  - Step 3: Attributes – Add the registry attributes, if any.
  - Step 4: Addresses – Add event addresses. This only applies to Gift Registries.
  - Step 5: Review – Review the information that has been entered, make revisions if necessary, and save the registry.
- Viewing a Registry – Explains how to view a registry in read-only mode
- Downloading a Registry Report – Explains how you can download a report containing a registry's information in PDF format
- Editing a Registry – Explain the different ways to navigate to the Edit Registry page and how to edit the registry.
- Deleting a Registry – Explains how to delete a registry

Looking Up an Item Registry

There are two ways to look up an item registry. You can search all registries using the Registries icon on the main toolbar, or you can look up just the registries for a specific customer using Registries option on the Actions menu in the Customer Dashboard.

To look up a registry from the Customer Dashboard:

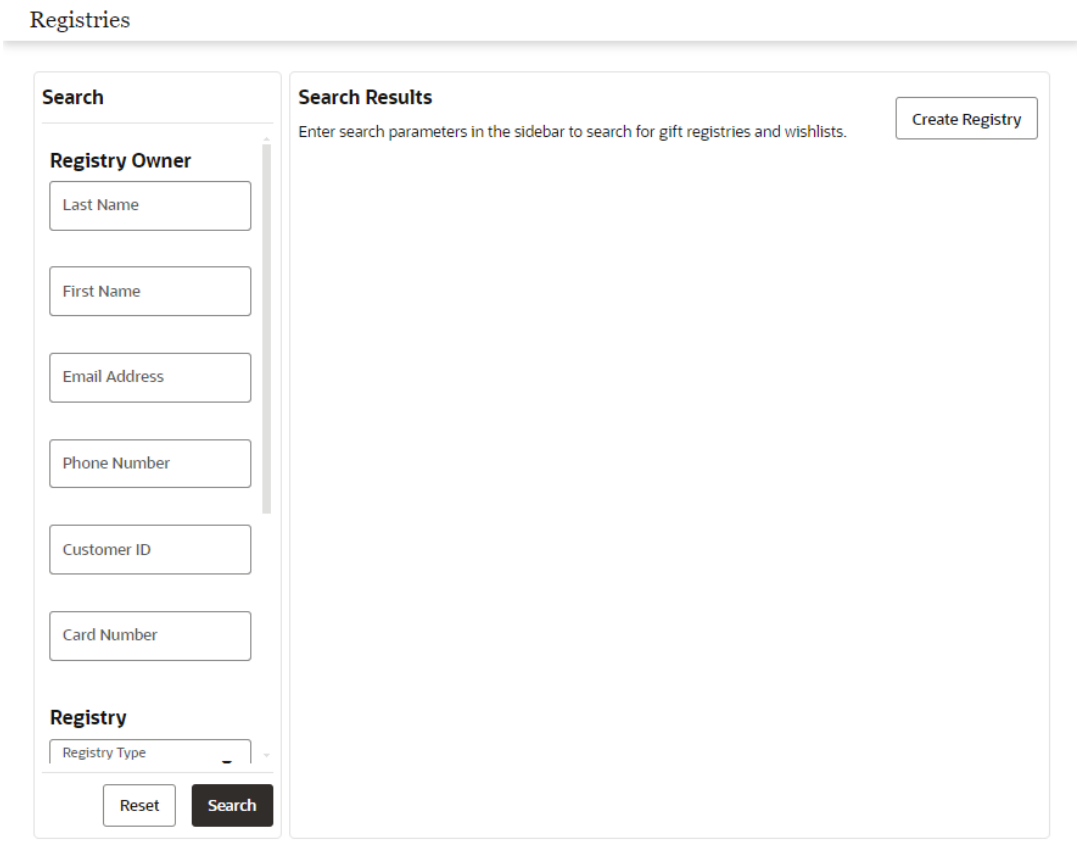

- From the Actions menu in the Customer Dashboard, choose the Registries option. This displays the list of Registries Found for the customer. See Figure 9-2.

To look up a registry from the main toolbar:

1. Click the Tasks icon.
2. Click Customer.
3. Click Registries. This displays the Registries page.

4. Enter search criteria in one or more of the following fields in the Search panel:

Programs

The Programs feature provides the ability to manage various programs to use in a retail environment in order to create customer loyalty. A card will be defined to hold one or more programs. The card may be a physical or electronic (used online only) card. Each defined card can associate one or more programs for the customer to use. These programs consist of three types: Tender, Award and Loyalty. Various rules and parameters can be defined for managing the program. You can use this chapter to define and manage the cards and programs used in retail locations.

Customer Engagement has the following types of Programs:

- Tender Program - Tender Programs define rules for gift cards or stored value cards. Only one tender program can exist on a card.
- Award Program - Award Programs are used to hold the awards a customer can use in the retail location. An Award Certificate can be defined with an entitlement offer that has rules on when and where the offer can be used. Additionally, an award currency value can be stored for use toward purchases in the retail store. Multiple award programs can exist on a card.
- Loyalty Program - Loyalty Programs are used for issuing points based on various customer activities such as purchases they make. Awards such as paper coupons, award certificates (with entitlement offer) and e-awards (with currency value) can be issued to the customer when they have earned a set amount of points. The points earned can then be used to redeem the award in a retail location. Loyalty Levels can be used to create a tiered structure to offer better benefits to the customer when they shop more frequently. An Award Program is required and used in conjunction with the loyalty program to hold the Award Certificates and the E-Award value earned based on rules defined in the loyalty program. Multiple loyalty programs can exist on a card.

Segment Queries

When creating an Unstratified or a Stratified Segment, it is important to know what you need to enter/select in each field, whether there is a particular format for the data entered, and what the query is going to return. If you are not sure what Customer Engagement is doing, you may get an error on the query or the results may not be what you expect.

This appendix explains what is required for each query template.

The following conventions apply to data entry when creating a segment:

- Dates must be in the MM/DD/YYYY format.
- When entering numbers, do not use commas, dollar signs, or decimal places unless specifically instructed to do so.
- When entering text, do not use any punctuation unless instructed otherwise.

Calculations

This appendix provides additional information on a few of the core retail calculations to help aid your understanding. It is important to understand that a particular measure can be calculated in many ways because it is impacted by many different input measures. When a value is changed that impacts the other editable values, the impacted measures that then need to be recalculated are protected so that you cannot also update the values. This prevents deadlock or circular calculation in which you do not know where to start recalculating.
