Review Patch Documentation

When you install the application for the first time, you install either a base release (for example, 13.1) or a later patch release (for example, 13.1.2). If you are installing the base release and additional patch releases, read the documentation for all releases that have occurred since the base release before you begin installation. Documentation for patch releases can contain critical information related to the base release, as well as information about code changes since the base release.

Improved Process for Oracle Retail Documentation Corrections

To more quickly address critical corrections to Oracle Retail documentation content, Oracle Retail documentation may be republished whenever a critical correction is needed. For critical corrections, the republication of an Oracle Retail document may at times not be attached to a numbered software release; instead, the Oracle Retail document will simply be replaced on the Oracle Technology Network Web site, or, in the case of Data Models, to the applicable My Oracle Support Documentation container where they reside.

This process will prevent delays in making critical corrections available to customers. For the customer, it means that before you begin installation, you must verify that you have the most recent version of the Oracle Retail documentation set. Oracle Retail documentation is available on the Oracle Technology Network at the following URL:

<http://www.oracle.com/technetwork/documentation/oracle-retail-100266.html>

An updated version of the applicable Oracle Retail document is indicated by Oracle part number, as well as print date (month and year). An updated version uses the same part number, with a higher-numbered suffix. For example, part number E123456-02 is an updated version of a document with part number E123456-01.

If a more recent version of a document is available, that version supersedes all previous versions.

Oracle Retail Documentation on the Oracle Help Center

Oracle Retail product documentation is available on the following web site:

<https://docs.oracle.com/en/industries/retail/index.html>

(Data Model documents are not available through Oracle Help Center. You can obtain these documents through My Oracle Support.)

Conventions

The following text conventions are used in this document:

Convention	Meaning
boldface	Boldface type indicates graphical user interface elements associated with an action, or terms defined in text or the glossary.
italic	Italic type indicates book titles, emphasis, or placeholder variables for which you supply particular values.
<code>monospace</code>	Monospace type indicates commands within a paragraph, URLs, code in examples, text that appears on the screen, or text that you enter.

Promotions Overview

Promotional price changes are temporary reductions in price for one or more items at one or more stores for a defined amount of time. Promotions are made up of a collection of offers, which define the reward and the conditions to receive the reward. Offers can be applied to regular priced items, clearance items, or both.

Pricing supports two levels of offers, item and transaction. Each offer level has templates associated with it which define how the offer is set up. For example, some offer templates will require only reward related information to be defined, such as the item level offer Get Y for Discount. This type of offer requires only the list of items that can be discounted if purchased and the discount amount or percent. Whereas other offer types, such as the transaction level Spend X, Get Discount offer, require a conditional spend amount, as well as a list of items that must be purchased to reach that spend amount, along with reward details such as the discount amount/percent and, optionally, a list of items excluded from the transaction level discount.

Note:

There are certain fields within the templates whose behavior will vary based on system option settings. In some cases the setting of a system option will even hide a field.

Table 1-1 Offer Types

Offer Type	Template	Examples
Item Level Offers
Simple Discount	Get Y for Discount	25% off all women's shoes
Buy/Get	Buy X, Get Discount	Buy any 3 board games, get $10 off
Buy/Get	Spend X, Get Discount	Spend $25 in Toys, get $5 off
Buy/Get	Buy X, Get Y for Discount	Buy 2 pairs of shoes; get a pair of socks for 50% off
Buy/Get	Spend X, Get Y for Discount	Spend $15 on breakfast cereal, get 25% off any 2 cartons of milk
Buy/Get	Buy X of Single Item for Discount	Buy 2 watermelons for $6
Buy/Get	Buy X and Y, Get Discount	Buy a sandwich, chips, and drink for $5.00
Buy/Get	Buy X and Y, Get Z for Discount	Buy a scarf and hat, get 50% off gloves
Gift with Purchase	Buy X, Get Gift with Purchase	Buy any 2 BBQ items, get a free beach towel
Gift with Purchase	Spend X, Get Gift with Purchase	Spend $200 in racquets, get a free can of tennis balls

Offer Type	Template	Examples
Transaction Level Offers
Simple Discount	Get Discount	10% off your purchase today only
Buy/Get	Buy X, Get Discount	Buy 3 reams of paper, get $5 your purchase
Buy/Get	Spend X, Get Discount	Spend $100 in cleaning supplies, get 5% off your purchase

If supplier-controlled pricing is enabled for Consignment and Concession ownership models through system option configuration in Merchandising, the primary supplier and purchase type can be added to item simple discounts so that when the offer is applied to item/locations these additional attributes can be considered. When offers are created via online screens in Pricing, a Generated By field is systematically set as Retailer. This field indicates what type of user has created a given promotion, a retailer user or supplier user.

When applying the simple promotion offer, downstream systems such as third-party POS need to compare item/location's primary supplier, purchase type and pricing control against offer's primary supplier, purchase type and generated by values. The pricing control value is defined at primary supplier/location level for consignment/concession items in Merchandising and specifies whether the simple promotion offer can be created and managed by the retailer or the supplier.

Emergency Offers

There is a system option called Price Event Processing Days that is set to designate the number of days required between the current date and the effective date of a price event. This rule ensures that promotions are created and approved with enough advance timing that stores and other impacted areas can react accordingly.

However, for situations where promotional offers were missed for one or more items or locations, emergency price events can be created. A separate security privilege provides the ability to limit the users that can create these emergency events.

When an emergency offer is created and approved the information is passed to downstream systems the next time the extracts are run.

Manage Campaigns

A promotion campaign is an attribute that can be added to a promotion as a way of linking together related promotions. Usually campaigns are driven by a retailer's marketing department and are often initiated in a separate solution. Because of this, campaigns are maintained through the upload/download process for use in Pricing. Although a Pricing function, campaigns are actually loaded via Merchandising by accessing Foundation Data > Download Foundation Data and Foundation Data > Upload Foundation Data.

To add, update, or remove a promotion campaign, select the template type of Price and Cost from the Download Data screen and then the template Promotion Campaigns. Click the Download button and when prompted, choose to either open the .ods file that is generated or save the file and open it separately in the spreadsheet application of your choice.

Add a Campaign

To add a new campaign, select the action type of Create on an empty row of the Promotion Campaigns tab. Next enter a unique ID up to 10 characters in length for the campaign along with the description in the appropriate columns. The description should be entered in the primary language (as defined in the Merchandising system options) of up to 1000 characters.

Updating a Campaign

If you would like to update the description for a promotion campaign, a similar process will be followed as that described above for creating new. First, download the spreadsheet, and then navigate to the row where you would like to make your updates. Select the action type of Update, and then correct the description in the spreadsheet.

Removing a Campaign

If you wish to remove a campaign, select the Delete action on the row of the campaign you wish to delete. Note that the removing a campaign is not allowed if it is still in use for a promotion.

Uploading Changes

For all actions defined above, once all the updates have been made to the data in the spreadsheet, save the file and close it. Then, return to the Merchandising screens and select Foundation Data > Upload Foundation Data from the main task list. In this screen, you'll again select the template type Price and Cost and the template Promotion Campaign. This will generate a process description automatically, but this can be updated if desired. Lastly, select the Browse button and navigate to the directory where you saved the updated spreadsheet.

To review the status of the upload and check whether any errors occurred, select the Foundation Data > Review Status task from the main task list.

Upload/Download from Spreadsheet

Pricing supports downloading of promotions into a spreadsheet to allow you to perform mass maintenance on the data. This data can then be re-uploaded into Pricing to update the events. Additionally, the upload function provides the ability to create new events from a spreadsheet and have them added to an existing group or create a new group. This chapter summarizes the workflow for both download and upload of promotions.

Download Promotions

Perform the following procedure to download promotions to a spreadsheet:

1. Perform a search for the promotion that you want to update. See Search for a Promotion for more information.
2. From the search results pane, select the promotion you wish to download.
3. Select the Download Selected option from the Action Menu.
4. In the Download pop-up, select the template to use for downloading the promotion. This will automatically generate a process description for the download, which you can update if desired.

5. Click OK.
6. When prompted, choose to either open the .ods file that is generated or save the file and open it separately in the spreadsheet application of your choice.

Upload from a Spreadsheet

The Upload Promotions page provides the ability to upload offers from a spreadsheet (.ods file) into Pricing.

All uploads are done using templates. You can use the default Promotion templates or configure a template for use in your business such that certain fields are defaulted or hidden from users to streamline the uploading process. You can download a blank version of your template by selecting the Download Blank Template option under Data Loading in the task list. For more information on blank templates, see the Pricing Do the Basics User Guide.

Note:

See the Oracle Retail Merchandising Do the Basics User Guide for information about template configuration.

Perform the following procedure to upload promotions via spreadsheet:

1. From the Tasks menu, select Upload Promotions under Promotions. The Upload Promotions page opens.

2. In the Template field, select the template you are using.
3. The Process Description will default based on the template name and timestamp, but can be updated.
4. In the Source field, click the Browse button to locate the spreadsheet file (.ods file) you want to upload and click Open.
5. Select one of the following options:

- Click Upload to upload the file.
 - Click Revert to clear out the screen inputs.
6. Click Done to close the Upload Promotions window.

Note:

If any errors occur during the upload, you will receive a notification. If there are no issues with the new event, you will not receive a notification. For more information on data loading statuses, see the View Data Loading Status section in the Pricing Do the Basics User Guide.

View Issues

If you receive a notification about an error that occurred in the uploading of a Promotion, you can click on the link in the notification, which will take you to the Data Loading Status page to see the details. Alternatively, this page can be accessed by navigating to the Data Loading - > Review Status option in the task list.

This task flow opens up the Data Loading status page, which lists the status of each upload/download request. Requests that were processed successfully will have their status set to Processed Successfully. Requests that were not processed successfully will have their status set to either Processed with Errors or Processed with Warnings. For such requests, you can access the View Issues page by clicking on the View Issues button to review details of the errors or warnings associated with a selected upload or download request.

The details provided include the worksheet in which the error is encountered, the row and column in the spreadsheet that is in error, and the error description. Errors will need to be fixed in order to successfully create or update a promotion.

Errors in download processing are typically due to the inability to access the data or insufficient privileges to create and write to the specified location. These errors can be resolved by removing any constraints that might have placed a lock on the data or ensuring that any constraints on creation of the spreadsheet are relaxed.

Errors in upload request processing are typically data-related and likely require data correction. You can use the error details in the View Issues screen as a guide to make corrections to the originally uploaded spreadsheet. Once the errors have been corrected, the data can be re-uploaded into Pricing as needed, using the corrected file.
